SCS TODAY: March 31, 2020
[A late-day update from the SCS Dean's Office]

TODAY'S TOPICS

— While you adjust to working/learning/teaching remotely, be sure to safeguard against potential data loss because of corruption, accidental deletion or attack. You can protect your data (free of charge!) by enrolling in CrashPlan.

— Student Affairs/Campus Wellness is offering community health and well-being workshops via Zoom along with virtual programs for graduate and undergraduate students. Learn more by contacting SCS Liaisons:

For Graduate Students: Angie Lusk, alusk@andrew.cmu.edu

For Undergraduate Students: Kristine Kengor, kkengor@andrew.cmu.edu

OF NOTE
— SCS's annual Founders Day celebration has been postponed. Nominations for the SCS Staff Recognition Awards will remain open; we will follow up with details for a new date as soon as we know more.

TO KNOW

Our ongoing work that may benefit our community and the global community...

— Nearly 500 high school and middle school teachers and mentors/volunteers have signed up for CMU CS Academy during the past two weeks, and now some teachers are sharing what they like about it.

Until tomorrow,
----- Martial

SHARE YOUR STORY

Do you have a story to share about teaching, learning or working remotely? Are you overcoming challenges or discovering strength within yourself or new things about your classmates or colleagues while we find ourselves operating in a new paradigm?
